Jennifer Lesmeister achieves state licensure

St. Cloud, Minn. –Jennifer Lesmeister, Financial Advisor at Laraway Financial, achieved Minnesota Department of Commerce professional licensure requirements to become a Resident Insurance Producer in Accident & Health, Life, Variable Life and Variable Annuities.

Insurance producer applicants must complete 20 hours of prelicensing education for measurement of professional competencies. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners supports state-based insurance regulation in the U.S. and is governed by chief insurance regulators from each state to establish standards and best practices, conduct peer review and coordinate regulatory oversight.

As a Financial Advisor, Lesmeister customizes financial plans for clients and develops strategies to help them achieve their financial goals. A graduate of University of Minnesota –Morris, she previously worked for Gray Plant Mooty in the St. Cloud area. Lesmeister’s career has leveraged her skills in interpretation, writing and research, and interests in estate and financial planning. At 16, Lesmeister began taking college level courses, and her advanced language skills in Spanish led her to a career as a bilingual legal assistant in Minneapolis. “I find that in the financial services industry each day brings changes, and new information,” says Lesmeister. “Staying informed in this industry is critical.”
