MATHEW HALL LUMBER COMPANY NAMES NEW PRESIDENT

(ST. CLOUD, Minn.) The Mathew Hall Lumber Board of Directors announced today that it has named long-time employee Al Stern as the company's new President.

Stern fills the vacancy left by Loran Hall who passed away suddenly at his home on July 4, 2018.

Stern has worked at Mathew Hall for nearly 30 years. He will leave his previous position as Sales Manager to take on his new role as President.

"Al was the obvious choice because he worked very closely with Loran for 30 years. Dan and I are confident he will continue Loran's vision for our company," said John Hall.

Stern, a native of Paynesville, lives with his wife in Sauk Rapids. He has two grown children and one grandchild.

"I am honored to be chosen to lead the company I have had the pleasure of working for all these years," said Al.

Founded in 1889 on the banks of the Mississippi River, Mathew Hall Lumber Company is one of St. Cloud's oldest businesses. John and Dan Hall are fourth-generation owners.
