Paramount Center for the Performing Arts Receives Gorecki Gift

St. Cloud, Minn. – The Paramount Center for the Arts is honored and humbled to announce that it has received a Two Million Dollar donation from Dorothy Gorecki and her late husband, Benedict Gorecki of Milaca, Mn.

According to PCA Development Officer, Cindy Hawker, “this contribution is a testament to the Gorecki’s commitment to the arts and passion for serving the community. Supporting children and families has always been important for them.”

While the building that houses the Paramount Theatre is owned by the City of St. Cloud, the Paramount Center for the Arts is a 501c3 arts organization that programs and manages the facility through a contract with the city.

“As a non-profit arts organization that serves the entire region as well as artists and arts groups from across Minnesota, this gift strengthens our mission to make arts and culture accessible to all” said Bob Johnson, PCA Executive Director. “The generosity of the Gorecki’s has my heart bursting with gratitude. This is a wonderful gift that will help set a course for the future. It will benefit Central Minnesota artists, arts organizations, and patrons as we look to expanding services and programs while keeping costs at reasonable levels.”
